PARENT

NUR AFIAN TY

I'm a mother of 3 children who are studying at EGS. Seeing my children going home with happy faces is more than enough, and even asking for school when holidays, that is 'something' for me.

With the small class system, the learning process is more focused and can be adjusted to each child's needs. Moreover, studying with other kids with special needs helps students to grow their gratefulness and accept diversity.

Educating children is like an equilateral triangle; it implicates school, parents and the children. There will be no perfect school, nor the perfect parents or children. However, we can collaborate in perfecting each other.

Thanks EGS! Hope it will be better and better again.

FARISA AMALIA

ALUMNI What I like about EGS is that it has been implementing small-class system where the class will only have 10-15 students. Dedicated and highly qualified teachers are also other plus points that lead the school to have excellent programs in and out of class. Such variety is what will make the students stay focused and excited to learn anything.

DIAH NIRMALASARI

PARENT EGS has such amazing and highly dedicated team of educators. My daughter enrolled in the second semester of year 10, which I thought would be very hard to catch up on some left studies, but the teachers are very helpful in making their time available to teach even on the weekends. My daughter ends up feeling very happy to finally catch up on studies she has fallen behind and with the efforts of such a great team, she also always performs a very satisfying result on her study. EGS is super awesome!
